

Argument VS. DISCUSSION

Every kid should know that we are always there to listen. But every kid should also know the power of their respectful words. Parents are going to respond more willingly and respectfully if kids approach them with a discussion rather than an argument. "Mom, can we have a discussion?" is going to work in their favor far more than yelling and screaming at us! Take time to teach your child what a discussion actually looks like and practice having a discussion together.

Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak and slow to become angry. James 1:19
