

ORGANIZATION

Write things down

If your child needs to remember something, it's helpful to put it in writing and even teach your child to use sticky notes as little reminders.

Use checklists

Doing things in the same order each day can help your child's brain get into a good routine. Take before school, after school, homework, chores, etc. and create checklists to help them get things done.

Have a place for everything

Show your child the proper place for things around the house so it's easier to work together to stay organized. Use labels, bins, baskets, and cubbies to keep it simple.

Work as a Team

Work together to come up with a plan to be more organized and keep trying until you come up with a plan that works for you!
