

4 ways to be more ORGANIZED

write things down

If your child needs to remember something, it helps to put it in writing. Sticky notes can be great reminder tools. Encourage your child to use their planners to keep track of assignments and check them off when they are completed.

have a place for everything

Create a simple system to stay organized together using labels, bins, baskets, cups, etc. so there's a place for everything and everything has a place.

use checklists

Create checklists to empower your child to do their daily routines (before school, after school, homework, chores, etc.).

work as a team

Identify times of day or areas in your home that could use more organization and come up with a plan together! Encourage each other along the way.
